

Summer has arrived in the Northern Hemisphere!
So, the opportunity to generate new possibilities is here.

Consequently, I decided to start a self-transformation. The result: The acclaimed Hudson Institute of Santa Barbara recently awarded me the title of Master Coach. Now, I am ready to witness and strengthen the transitions of leaders who are committed to their own development, and the development of their teams and / or their companies.

What is in Kamaleo's mind this season? The concept of Agile Organizations. So, here is a great McKinsey & Company article in case you are interested in this topic too: The five trademarks of agile organizations.
